PCS Homeschool Support

If you know a homeschooling family that may be looking for support on some of those junior or senior level courses, please let them know that PCS is here to help. Some homeschooling families find that when their child reaches a higher level of science, math or history that they have to give up their family goal of homeschooling.

Portage Christian School can offer prices per class for the 2018-2019 school year, allowing the family to continue to be the primary teacher of their child with the help of trained professionals in those specialized classes. They can contact the school office for a current list of available classes.
